Sabeeh Khan is a 20-year-old honors student from San Antonio, with a rich cultural background — being both Pakistani and white. His identity and life experiences have shaped his curiosity, empathy, and drive to understand others, leading him to pursue a path in psychology.

Known for his academic dedication, Sabeeh has earned multiple placements on the President's List, reflecting his consistent commitment to excellence. Beyond the classroom, he is passionate about learning in all forms and spends his free time exploring new ideas and gaining knowledge that broadens his understanding of the world.

Family and friends play an important role in Sabeeh's life. Their support and encouragement fuel both his personal growth and academic ambition, keeping him grounded and motivated to push himself further.

Sabeeh is set to graduate with his associate degree in May and plans to continue his studies in psychology. His long-term goal is to become a therapist, where he can make a meaningful impact on the mental health and well-being of others. With a deep interest in human behavior and a compassionate heart, Sabeeh hopes to serve individuals in need of psychological support and contribute to a healthier, more understanding world.
