Achieving the Dream
LEADER COLLEGE

Rigorous Student Expectations

Processing Standards from Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) 7th Grade Math

<http://ritter.tea.state.tx.us/rules/tac/chapter111/ch111b.html>

(a) Introduction

- (1) The desire to achieve educational excellence is the driving force behind the Texas essential knowledge and skills for mathematics, guided by the college and career readiness standards. By embedding statistics, probability, and finance, while focusing on computational thinking, mathematical fluency, and solid understanding, Texas will lead the way in mathematics education and prepare all Texas students for the challenges they will face in the 21st century.
- (2) The process standards describe ways in which students are expected to engage in the content.
- (3) The primary focal areas in Grade 7 are numbers and operations; proportionality; expressions, equations, and relationships; and measurement and data. Students use concepts, algorithms, and properties of rational numbers to explore mathematical relationships and to describe increasingly complex situations. Students use concepts of proportionality to explore, develop, and communicate mathematical relationships, including number, geometry and measurement, and statistic and probability. Students use algebraic thinking to describe how a change in one quantity in a relationship results in a change in the other. Students connect verbal, numeric, graphic, and symbolic representations of relationships, including equations and inequalities. Students use geometric properties and relationships, as well as spatial reasoning, to model and analyze situations and solve problems. Students communicate information about geometric figures or situations by quantifying attributes, generalize procedures from measurement experiences, and use the procedures to solve problems. Students use appropriate statistics, representations of data, and reasoning to draw conclusions, evaluate arguments, and make recommendations. While the use of all types of technology is important, the emphasis on algebra readiness skills necessitates the implementation of graphing technology.

Rigorous Student Expectations

The State of Texas has high student expectations. It is imperative that all Texas educators understand how the STAAR program measures the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS) curriculum standards.

Supply/Demand for Educators in Texas

- Over the next ten years, increasing demand due to aging teacher workforce (ready to retire) and high student enrollment.
- Texas broke its own record by hiring over 4,500 new teachers in 2013
- Goal of State Board of Educator Certification: teacher workforce reflect state racial-ethnic composition, which required more minority teachers.
- Continued teacher shortages: secondary math/science; bilingual education/English as a second language; foreign Languages; STEM; and special education.
- Workforce Commission anticipates elem. School jobs will add the second-highest number of jobs among all occupations in the state through the end of the decade, nearly 68,000 new jobs, and middle schools expected to add additional 65,000 jobs.

- High demand in urban and rural areas with urban and poor communities having the greatest need (700,000 teachers the next decade).
- Urban communities face teacher retention challenges because many leave to take higher salaries in wealthier suburban school districts.
- Urban schools typically open schools with substitutes due to lack of available certified teachers.
- Some school districts pay signing bonuses or extra stipend as incentives for those teaching in inner city school or in a shortage area.
- Competition for jobs along I-35 corridor is fierce. Rural areas find attracting teachers difficult due to remoteness and lack of amenities.
- Preference in hiring is given to those with Masters Degrees in teaching or education or similar graduate degrees, which equate to higher salaries.

Necessary Personal Skills of an Educator

Patience - This is likely the single most important skill. Kids these days are stubborn, and many lack the inherent respect for authority that we were taught at a young age. Spending a single day in a room full of raucous teenagers is enough to send any human being to the looney bin, which is why every good teacher needs patience in order to find a way to work with his students and earn their respect.

Adaptability - Different kids learn in different ways, and some lessons need unique teaching tools. Good teachers know how to adapt their lesson plan to their students, so that all the kids learn optimally. This trait can take some experience and practice in a classroom setting, so give it time.

Imagination - Whether you teach high school chemistry or kindergarten, nothing is a more effective tool than using your imagination to create new and interesting ways for your students to learn. You may be inspired by the work of another teacher, mentor or a TV commercial - it doesn't matter. All that matters is that you take the initiative to find new ways for your kids to learn the material.

Teamwork - Teachers could have a hard time without a wide variety of support staff around them. If you feel alone, your school principal, administrative staff, parent-teacher committee, and more are often available to provide you help. By working as a team, you may have an easier time increasing your students' ability to learn and have fun.

Risk Taking - Sometimes to get the big reward, you may need to take a risk. Being a teacher is about finding a way to get kids to learn, and sometimes these new learning methods can be risky. Stick to it and you'll soon find that others are following your teaching example.

Constant Learning - You can never know too much when you are a teacher, especially when it comes to the best way to teach your students. Great teachers are constantly looking for ways to expand their horizons with courses, workshops, and seminars. Make sure you don't become stagnant by taking courses to keep the content fresh in your mind.

Communication - No teacher will succeed if they don't have good communication skills. Clear, concise, and to the point - the better your communication skills are, the easier your lessons will be. There are many different types of classes available to help some teachers who may need help improving their skills.

Mentoring - Teachers need to always remember that, aside from parents, they are one of the most consistent mentors in a child's life. That means setting a good example, at all times. Teachers may also have students that they spend extra time with being a mentor, which means that being a good role model is even more important.

Leadership - One of the other most important skills each teacher must have (besides patience) is leadership. Your students need someone to guide them, to be in charge, and set the tone of the class. Leadership is a difficult skill, meaning you may want to get outside help if you feel that you could use more work on this particular skill, or any other for that matter.
